

Dementia Advocacy

Our project offers free one-to-one advocacy support for people 50+ who are residents of the Stoke-on-Trent area and have either been diagnosed as having dementia, having memory issues or are waiting for a diagnosis to be confirmed.

Asist offer task-based advocacy support, we can:

- find and explain information and signpost to other services
- support you to have your voice heard and share your wishes with services and professionals
- support you to have control over the changes in your life.

Asist's Dementia Advocacy is part of the Community Advocacy project, supporting people and community groups to have a shared voice in Stoke-on-Trent.

We accept self-referrals and referrals from family and health and social care professionals.
